

A 'no frills' Independent Rail Itinerary from

www.ClassicTrainTravel.com

Moscow – Irkutsk – Ulan-Ude – Vladivostok (12 nights):

|                               |                         |         |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------|---------|
| Train #10 'Baikal' (4 nights) | Moscow – Irkutsk.       | 5153 km |
| Irkutsk (3 nights)            | Irkutsk – Ulan Ude.     | 456 km  |
| Train #362 (1 night)          | Ulan Ude – Vladivostok. | 3650 km |
| Ulan-Ude (1 night)            |                         |         |
| Train #2 'Rossiya' (3 nights) |                         |         |

Day 1
(Even dates only) Moscow to Irkutsk by train
Train no. 10 'Baikal Express' (operates only on even dates)
Departs Moscow Yaroslavl Station at 23.25 hrs (local time)

Days 2-4 On the train

Day 5
Arrival in Irkutsk. Arrives at 09.16. hrs (local time)
3 nights in Irkutsk

Day 6 In Irkutsk

Day 7 In Irkutsk

Day 8
Irkutsk to Ulan – Ude (overnight, daily train)
Train No. 362 (2nd class only available)
Departs 20.35 hrs (local time)

Day 9
Morning arrival at Ude. Arrives at 06.15 hrs (local time)
Overnight in Ulan Ude

Day 10
(Odd date only) Depart Ulan Ude to Vladivostok
Train No.2 'Rossiya'
Operates on odd dates
Departs Ulan Ude 14.39 hrs (local time)

Day 11- 12 On the train

Day 13
Arrival in Vladivostok in the morning
Arrives at 08.03 hrs (local time)

A 'no frills' Independent Rail Itinerary from

www.ClassicTrainTravel.com

If you would like to book this journey, please contact us at ctt@classictraintravel.com to advise dates of travel and mention if you would like accommodation included in the stopover cities.

Train information – stopping points shown in bold. Stops are usually for between 10 – 20 minutes only.

Train #10. Baikal Express:

ROUTE: Moscow - Vladimir - Nizhny Novgorod - Kirov - Perm - Ekaterinburg - Tyumen - Omsk - Novosibirsk - Krasnoyarsk - Taishet - Angarsk - Irkutsk

The Baikal Express brings you to the Great Lake Baikal and to the one of the most beautiful cities in Russia - Irkutsk. The train has both 1st class (2 berth) and 2nd class (4 berth) compartments. The train also has a small library and play room for kids. Every single carriage is equipped with a shower, microwave and a refrigerator. The restaurant wagon is said to be quite good as well.

Train #2 Rossia (originates in Moscow):

ROUTE: Ulan-Ude - Chita - Skovorodino - Birobidzhan - Khabarovsk - Vladivostok

A journey on the Trans-Siberian Express Rossia, from Moscow to Vladivostok, is the longest train ride in the world. The train is decorated in typical Russian style including its trade mark gold and red colors. The train is considered one of the best trains in Russia in terms of service, friendliness of staff and upkeep.

The train has 1st class (2 berth) and 2nd class (4 berth) compartments. The 2nd class compartments have a unique style with green curtains embroidered with pictures of all of the Russian cities through which the train passes. The 1st class compartments are decked out in Russian style red and gold colors. Each compartment also has a TV. The train also has a nice dining car that has a special menu for the passengers.

When planning your journey, if you travel over the end of a month, the itinerary may change depending on the number of days in that month.

Tickets are valid only for the dates and trains shown, non refundable and non transferable.

Information provided is a guide only. Correct at time of preparation, services and facilities subject to change.